Scholarship for Service

- Through generous funding from the National Science Foundation, Dr. Andy Wang, Dr. Michael Burmester, Dr. Xiuwen Liu, and Dr. David Whalley have received $4.2 million Scholarship-for-Service scholarships to fund academically talented cybersecurity students.
- The SFS program helps address the labor shortage and the scarcity of women and people from underrepresented groups in the field of cybersecurity.
- Each SFS scholar is supported for up to six semesters. An undergraduate awardee can receive $27,000 per year, and a graduate awardee can receive $37,000 per year. The scholarship also covers tuition and fees and $6,000 per year in professional development.
- The unique aspect of our SFS program is the emphasis on capture-the-flag-oriented training, competitions, and outreach activities. Our SFS team is now ranked 3rd among all U.S. teams.
- Currently, 10 graduate students and 11 undergraduate students are funded under the SFS scholarship

S-STEM Scholarship

- Through generous funding from the National Science Foundation, Dr. Andy Wang, Dr. David Whalley, Dr. Sonia Haiduc, Dr. Xiuwen Liu, and Dr. Lara Perez-Felkner (from the College of Education) have received $1 million to fund S-STEM scholarships to academically talented students with financial need.
- The S-STEM scholarship program helps address the labor shortage as well as the scarcity of women and underrepresented groups in computing.
- Each S-STEM scholar is supported for four years, up to $10,000 per year. The scholarship is intended to reduce or replace student loans so that students can better focus on their academic endeavors.
- Currently, 32 students are funded under the S-STEM scholarship program
